BAND STORY

"Calvin " Joonie" Gary, Jr., better known by his stage name Joonie is an American singer, songwriter, arranger and musician, specializing in Soul, R&B and Popular music. Born December 11, 1981 in Jacksonville, North Carolina into a musical family, whose mother was a singer and father a keyboardist, Joonie's talent is genetic and his passion is influenced by his environment, where gospel and soul music were always a part of his life. Acoustic Love, Joonie's debut album, set for release April 27, 2010 is real music, expressing his feelings about love and relationships, explored from a very rare point of view in current popular music; one where romance exists, women, are valued and appreciated, a story is told and pure emotions are expressed set to perfect arrangements with infectious rhythms. Prior to Acoustic Love, Joonie has written, arranged, produced and / or played instrumentals for other artists including, Elliot Yamin, Ruben Stoddard, Nappy Roots and has recorded unreleased collaborations with Angie Stone and Mos Def."
